Country Finishes: Simple Paint Treatments for Found and Unfinished Furniture Richard Kollath

This work presents 27 original paint projects that turn flea market finds and generic unfinished furniture in country style heirlooms. The book is organized by technique - sponging, stippling, decoupage etc - and each technique is demonstrated on a humble piece of furniture. The projects are designed to be completed in an afternoon, or at most a weekend and all materials are environmentally sound so you don't need masks or gloves. This book's easy-to-follow instructions and over 200 illustrations should enable even complete novices to transform battered trunks, nondescript chairs, tables and armoires into country treasures.
