Whipped Women: The Confessor, and other Erotic Tales Jean de Villiot (pseudonym)

From the same pseudonymous and libidinous pen that brought us the notoriously graphic 'Memoirs of Dolly Morton' comes five tales of delicious deviance. Whilst flagellation is the focal point of each work, particular lip service is paid to those forbidden acts that flow natural therefrom, and no aperture is spared from the most invasive of inspections.

From unruly princesses to belligerent maids, young maidens married off to the old and wealthy to servant girls servicing their lords, no class or age is left wanting in this wonderfully lascivious collection replete with all manner of naughty deeds and devices.

Published by the infamous Victorian publisher Charles Carrington in 1903, this rare collection, presented herein with all five complete stories, will make a fine addition to any collection of Erotic and Sado-Masochistic literature.
